PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I manage tech teams and facilitate effective communication that ensures maximum visibility of all projects to all stakeholders using an Agile frameworks. This has allowed me to perform tasks that require excellence from both a creative & critical standpoint. I capitalize on bridging the gap between development and operations, and being an effective, yet adaptable point of contact for my development team and stakeholders. Having an inquisitive imagination, a rigid work ethic, and ability to figure out solutions in the midst of chaos is something I thrive off of. The scope of my abilities includes project management, process development, resource/budget planning and allocation, visual design, and Front-End Development.
